

Our 2018 newsletters focused on unexpected news, emergencies and big changes. Here is an update on some of these items.

Dr. Mark Jobe has accepted the position as Moody's tenth president. Dr. Jobe is a Moody Bible Institute graduate, and in 1986 helped begin New Life Community Church in Chicago. New Life currently has twenty locations focused on bringing people to Christ regardless of their culture or location, and encouraging them to affect change in their neighborhoods.

Since the closing of the Spokane Bible Campus there are 34 First-Year Students that are now taking Bible classes at the Aviation campus. Because of the limited classroom space there are additional evening classes at the Moody Hangars.

There has not been any additional news from the NTSB concerning the tragic July 2018 aircraft accident. However, we do have updates concerning the widowed Senn, Trouten, and Lee families. Naomi Senn gave birth to her and Diego's fourth child, Jayla Beatrice Senn on Dec 10, 2018. Yuki Lee gave birth to her and Joochan's first child Anna JooHa Lee on Feb 12, 2019. Both babies are healthy and doing well.

On February 8th, Moody Bible Institute presented the Alumni of the Year award to these three wives and their families during the last session of Founder's Week. I encourage you to watch the video and statements made by the wives at www.moodybible.org/news/education/2019/founders-week-awards/

Training the next generation of missionary aviators

the latest from the hangar

Wayne's fourth-year students took maintenance seminars from January 7 through February 8. Each seminar lasted one week and involved digging deeper into the subjects of aircraft landing gear, troubleshooting, electrical distribution, and aircraft control surface adjustments. Each seminar included classroom teaching in the morning and hangar projects in the afternoon. One of these projects included a Cessna 172R that Moody purchased to replace the aircraft lost in the accident.

Wayne has also been involved with the maintenance Technical Evaluations (TE) for our graduates. Technical Evaluations are part of the application process with various missionary aviation organizations. These organizations evaluate each applicants knowledge, skills, and attributes through a series of rigorous projects and exams. Passing TE is a critical and formidable step to overseas service for our missionary aviators, thus, and Moody conducts TEs for each of its graduates to prepare them for the official version with their respective missions. One TE will be given at the end of February for Mark Bogner and another during March for Lance Kanagy. At the end of 2018 Cody Burns, Steven McMath and Ben Samuelson were given their evaluations. They have been accepted by different various organizations and went on to pass their official technical evaluations given by those organizations. During this process, Wayne calibrated student, staff, and Moody-owned tools, which included 528 torque wrenches, micrometers, scales.

New Flight Simulators. The school has been working with the Frasca Flight Simulator company and various contributors for the installation of three new flight simulators. This multi-million dollar endeavor includes remodeling the maintenance hangar mezzanine to house the simulators and an additional classroom. These sims will be the first ones built by Frasca with the new avionics and navigation systems manufactured by Garmin. Installation should be complete by early summer 2019, and is another step toward training the and equipping the best missionary aviators.

Prayer & Praise

- Pray as we continue to witness and minister to families in our neighborhood: A single mother who follows astrology and openly rejects Christ. A member of another family who recently joined a Jehovah's Witness church. A family with two small children that have been attending AWANA classes at our church with Mercedes.
- Wayne & Denise as we emotionally process the loss of family, students and poor marital choices made by Brittany and Joshua. Joshua and Emmy are separated and seeking a divorce. Josh has moved four hours west of Spokane to place distance between him and Emmy. We are physically and emotionally tired
- Our minivan is currently parked due to engine issues. Pray for us as Wayne searches for engine parts that are no longer manufactured and coping with having only one running vehicle.
