GETTING MARRIED

The most exciting event this year happened on August 25th, 2023. This was the day that Grace and I got married surrounded by the friends and family who have loved and supported us since day one. From the very first date, Grace and I have felt we could never spend enough time together and now we get to spend the rest of our lives living as one. We are so grateful for the example of Jesus's love because without Him or His example we would not be able to love or forgive one another as we should. Our goal in marriage is to help those around us know Christ and His love more by being a good example of it and living according to His will.

GRADUATING

After 6 years in school, countless hours of studying, and many flights, I have finally graduated from Moody Aviation with a Bachelor's in Missionary Aviation Technologies with an emphasis in flight. Standing on stage I knew that I did not achieve this on my own. I can confidently say that I would not have graduated without Jesus strengthening me, my instructor's encouragement, and others who have helped financially. God used this time at Moody to grow me in countless ways that I will always be grateful for. Through the in-depth Bible classes I took at Moody, I better appreciate God's love for me and the sacrifice it took for Him to give me salvation.

WE'RE JOINING PROCLAIM AVIATION

All five of us who graduated from the flight program at Moody Aviation this past summer are joining mission organizations so that isolated people around the world can hear the gospel of Christ. Grace and I are joining an organization called Proclaim Aviation which is dedicated to equipping and supporting people who are in training for missionary aviation. I will be working as a flight instructor at Moody to contribute to this mission. In fact, most of the flight instructors at Moody are missionaries with Proclaim who support raise while they teach. This means that a large portion of the financial barrier to many students completing their training is no longer a factor allowing more people to make it to the mission field. Grace and I will be raising support during our time at Moody so that more people can be equipped to go out and share the Gospel to the nations. Please contact us if you would like to partner in the ministry God is doing through Proclaim and pray for God to use you in other ways to reach those who do not know His love. We plan on joining Missionary Aviation Fellowship in the future, but for now we will be in Spokane working to train the next generation of missionary pilots. I was immensely blessed by my instructors during my time at Moody and hope to encourage and bless my own students in the same way.

MFT INTERNSHIP

This February, I will start an internship at a therapy clinic in Spokane to start earning hours for my License in Marriage and Family Therapy. This will include supervised work and training so I can serve the community around me using the gifts and opportunities granted to me by the Lord.

This is an exciting opportunity for me to show the love of Christ to those I see in my office and for me to grow as a therapist so I can offer better care. While I am nervous to begin, I know that God has me in this field so he can use me to glorify Him and I am looking forward to starting. Please pray for my clients, that they will come to know Christ, as He is the best counselor they can have. Pray for me to grow and learn as a clinician so I can help my clients better. Pray also for God to provide a community of Christian therapists who can support one another and help each other grow.
