OCTOBER 2026

So Grateful!

You can thank the Lord with me for how active He is! He has shown Himself in many ways over the last few months, and even when we don't see it, I am grateful for the confidence that He is always actively working.

Work in Student Life

By the Lord's grace the Student Life team has gone from 2 people to 5 this summer! This allows me to transition from pressure relief mode (helping with housing, events, etc.), to a more concentrated focus on documenting processes so that our operations happen in a standard, efficient, and transferable way! I've gotten to spend some of my time meeting with really knowledgeable people both internal and external to Moody as I learn processes, and it has been exciting to begin work on this, which, by the Lord's grace, will outlive my time at Moody. On the student front, after the past year, I have found I really do enjoy getting to work with students—the life is where the student is. 😊 It has been very encouraging to see the Lord provide for them in many ways, and I am excited to continue being intentional with them as I shift responsibilities, as about ⅓ of my time is still spent with the students.

Please pray the Lord would give me ability to be creative and have discernment about where to focus my energy, for fruitfulness as I shift responsibilities, and for stamina, wisdom, provision, and wisdom for the Moody team as a whole—there is a lot going on!

Financial Update!

I am still in need of financial support for my full-time work at Moody to be sustainable.
I have been given some flexibility from Moody this winter to put concentrated energy towards partnership development. Please pray for fruitfulness in this, and for the Lord's provision and direction. I am currently at 57% of my total support goal of $4500 monthly, and need an additional $1,954 per month to reach 100% (This includes taxes, insurance, student loans, etc.)
I would love if you would prayerfully consider partnering with me through prayer and finances.

If I have not gotten to meet with you, I would love to schedule something in the next month or two to share more about where the Lord is leading, why I am asking for partnership while still in the US, and invite you to be part of what the Lord is doing through Moody Aviation and overseas!

Summer Updates!

MAF Camp

All of us at MAF camp in front of the Kodiak in Cascade, ID

At the beginning of July, our team of MAF and Moody folks welcomed 12 high-school students to The Depot, an old train depot building on the side of the airport in Cascade, ID where we call home for a week every year for camp. All of the students came to the camp with a common pursuit of God and aviation. They got a taste of flight lessons, ground school, riveting, building and flying styrofoam gliders, and whitewater rafting! It was especially neat to see them understand the need and application of airplanes to support missionaries in isolated places. It was a full week. I am especially thankful for the opportunity to bunk with the 3 gals out of the 12 students, which provided time for prayer and conversations.

I was blown away by the Lord's provision in conversations about what the Lord cares about and even opportunities to share with the gals what He has taught me through some hard things. I've remained connected with one of the ladies. Though we would love it, all of the students may not end up on the mission field, BUT, every student IS exposed to the need for missionary aviation and the reason the love of Christ compels us to live this way. Whether they end up as a pilot, mechanic, Bible translator, or a banker, we trust that the Lord will use these truths in their lives for His purposes!

Reconnecting with Susannah~ Susannah and I met last year at Oshkosh, and now she is a student at Moody Aviation! She stopped by Oshkosh again this year on her move out to Spokane.

Oshkosh Connections

During the last half of July, it was a privilege to 1) share a common passion with many an aviation lover and talk about the truths that have changed my life and compelled our specific use of aviation, and 2) enjoy previous connections within the mission aviation community and make some new ones! We had many fruitful conversations with prospective students, with people who do not know the Lord, and with many who were unaware of still isolated people and that airplanes could be used as a tool to reach them. As I get further down the missionary aviation path, I realize more and more how much I have to learn!

Flying back from Oshkosh!

Please thank the Lord with me for safety and a fruitful time, both at MAF camp and Oshkosh! Please pray that the Lord would continue to use the time we spent with others this summer to bring fruitfulness and draw them closer to Himself.

I am moving in December!

The last 3.5 years with 6 other Moody gals has been such a gift. It will be bittersweet to leave the precious environment the Lord has given us together —evenings of constant chats and debriefing the day, laughs, tears, and much ice cream. I am grateful to continue intentionally building those relationships, and excited for ability to host others at the new place! Come December, my new address will be: 816 E Illinois Ave, Spokane, WA. 99207.

Until next time,

♡ Allex
