Howdy everyone.

This spring has been super busy but we wanted to share a couple of highlights.

Missions Week.

First, we recently had our annual Missions Week at Moody Aviation. For our enthusiastic and motivated students and staff, this event is always a great reminder of the need out in the road-less regions of the world. Many mission aviation organizations participate and interact with our students, giving them exposure to all the opportunities the Lord may be drawing them to.

EQUIPPING.

After serving for ten years as missionaries in Costa Rica, we joined Proclaim Aviation Ministries and began retooling for a new season of ministry.

There are 25 Proclaim missionaries actively training the next generation of missionary pilots and mechanics at Moody Aviation in Spokane, WA. Proclaim has placed us here to do member care for these missionaries and to mentor aviation students.

Our passion is to engage and equip missionary aviators to carry the hope of the Gospel and bring transformative change in the world's isolated regions.

Paul's Graduation.

The second highlight: I just graduated from my master's program in care and counseling with a missions emphasis. I am grateful the Lord provided this opportunity to re-tool and upgrade my skills when I returned from the field.

It's a great privilege to help prepare the young men and women for the task before them. Now, without course-work, I will be able to dedicate more time at Moody Aviation helping prepare these future missionary aviators to effectively bring the Gospel and make disciples in the road-less regions of the world.

Road Trip.

Once our academic obligations are satisfied, Bridget and I will be hitting the road in mid-June. Our hope is to connect with as many of you as time allows.

Thank you again for your continued prayer support and financial partnership
