

Spring 2026

Alaska

I remember the days of old; I meditate on all that you have done; I ponder the work of your hands. I stretch out my hands to you; my soul thirsts for you like a parched land. Psalm 143:5-6

In the first months of our marriage, Psalm 143 has become an important meditation for Ginni and me. Just as the psalmist in the verses above, we have been led to remember and ponder all that God has done to put us where we are now. It's been sweet to do so together, to meditate on all the ways God's past work in us is now being used in our new life together. This remembrance leads us to long for more of God, knowing we need Him. And, as other parts of this Psalm display, we have also spent a lot of time praying for God to lead us in the ways we should go, to act in love and godliness. It's been a busy and challenging few months, but full of God's blessings.

On January 17th, 2026, we got married!

The day was beautiful, though not without its hiccups. In the midst of fever, a fierce stomach flu, and even the maid of honor passing out during the ceremony, we experienced God's goodness in sustaining us.

As we look back on our wedding day, we remember feeling joy and peace. At the end of the day, we were married! And, we were able to display the beautiful hope that we have in Christ - one day, we will be reunited in heaven like a bride is to their groom.

Moody + Proclaim Recap

Last year, Evan began working at Moody Aviation as a lab assistant. This role primarily works with students who are in the third year of the program, in which they train toward their powerplant mechanic certification. As Ginni understands it, he helps teach them how to work on airplane engines.

Because this role is a fundraised position through Proclaim Aviation, we have begun support raising in order to serve at Moody for the next two years!

Starting in Washington

We spent our first part of partnership development in Washington, starting in Spokane and traveling to western Washington to connect with people to talk about Moody Aviation. We also took the opportunity to start reaching out to people in Alaska, where we would travel to in March.

In sharing about Moody Aviation and our expected time there, we realized that raising support was more than raising a salary. As Psalm 143 describes, this time began to be about remembrance. We were called to remember what God has done in leading Evan to Moody, in bringing us together, and how He has continued to provide for us together.

Time in Alaska

For the second part of our support raising, we spent four weeks in Alaska. Aside from hours of coffee and dinner dates, we were able to spend some time exploring the beauty of Alaska, which for Evan included a flight over the Alaska wilderness. We were even given a tour of a friend's experimental aircraft!

We were unbelievably blessed by our time in Alaska. While raising support can be stressful and challenging, we were blessed by so many encouraging conversations. We felt truly supported, not just financially, but through the laughter, stories, and advice that was offered by friends and family. It was also a gift to spend so much time with Ginni's community and to introduce everyone to Evan.

To everyone who has kept up with us, prayed for us, and chosen to support the ministry financially: thank you. We are honored and humbled by the generosity of our friends and family, and we really can't thank you enough. God has continued to show His goodness to us through the community He has given us.

Looking Ahead

April 19th - Start driving to Kansas from Washington

April 23rd - Arrive in Kansas

May 22nd - Leave Kansas to drive to Arizona

May 25th - Start driving back to Washington!

We would love for you to continue praying for us as we travel and share about Moody and Proclaim Aviation. Please pray for endurance during this time as we fill our schedule with meetings, speaking appointments, and church visits. We are so excited to connect with everyone from Kansas but anticipating the need for recharge and alone time.

Finally, please pray for unity for us. Our prayer going into support raising was that it would bring us closer together rather than apart. We are thankful for the ways God has already answered that prayer!

As we look back at the last few months of marriage and support raising, we are able to recognize the ways that God is still working in our life. Looking forward, we seek to remain dependant on the one who is the provider of all.
