A BIG UPDATE

Dear friends and family

Grace and peace to you! I'm writing with news that fills my heart with joy: I'm engaged!

INTRODUCING THE LOVE OF MY LIFE.

Today marks five years since Dain Park and I started dating, and I can't think of a better day to introduce her to you. God brought us together at my church here in Spokane, where we were both serving on the worship team back in 2021. Looking back, I see how faithfully He was writing our story long before we knew it.

Interested in partnering with

Dain grew up in Yakima, where her father still serves as the head pastor of a Korean church. She grew up in a home that loves the Lord and His people, and it shows in who she is. She graduated from Gonzaga University with a degree in biology, and she now works at the Yakima hospital as a medical lab scientist. She loves the work she does in the lab, quietly and carefully serving patients and doctors in ways most people will never see.

That quiet faithfulness is one of the things I treasure most about her. Dain is gentle and introverted, and she doesn't need to be the loudest voice in the room to make a difference. She listens well. She notices people. She is always the one to offer a kind word, a note of encouragement, or a prayer at just the right moment. Wherever she goes, she shares the love of Christ with others.

She also has a wonderful sense of wonder. She loves hiking and spending time in God's creation, and she's happiest on a trail or with a good book in her hands. She loves trying new foods, and she makes even ordinary days feel like small adventures. Some of my favorite moments are the simple ones, just spending quality time together.

SHE SAID YES!

For five years, Dain has been right beside me. She stood with me when I began my training with Moody Aviation, and she has supported me through every step, long days and busy seasons included. Many of our "dates" were spent studying together, but most importantly, we share the same deep desire to serve the Lord with our lives, and I am so excited to begin this next chapter with her. She is truly the love of my life, and I am deeply grateful to God for her. Recently, she came to visit me in Spokane, where I proposed, and she said yes!

We're planning to be married sometime next year, and our prayer is that our marriage would honor Christ and be a place of rest, joy, and welcome for others.

Thank you for walking with me, praying for me, and supporting me. Your faithfulness has been such a gift, and it means so much to be able to share this joy with you. I can't wait for you to meet Dain.

With love and gratitude, Georg Il Yu

PRAY FOR US.

Preparation for Marriage.

Pray that Dain and I would keep growing in our love for God and for each other, and that we'd build a strong foundation before the wedding.

With Dain in Yakima and me in Spokane, pray for wisdom, unity, and peace in the decisions ahead, and that we'd keep our eyes on God and our marriage.

Pray that God would provide for our needs as we plan the wedding and begin our life together.

"I thank my God every time I remember you." (Philippians 1:3)
