

Spring 2026 - Kansas

How do we wait on the Lord? As Christians, how are we meant to endure seasons of waiting, and how do we deal with uncertainty and fear in these times? Ginni and I have been asking these questions in our hearts recently. We certainly experienced waiting during our engagement, but now we are learning how to wait on God together, and in a different kind of waiting. This season has been full of both fear in uncertainty and humble joy in God's grace. We've been reminded throughout it that waiting well includes continuing to praise God, reminding and confessing to ourselves and others all the blessings of God's works. In praising God, we not only act in obedience, but our hearts and minds are strengthened in the waiting. He has already given His people many reasons to praise Him! And, in my and Ginni's waiting, He has given many gracious and joy-worthy provisions through you all, His people!

"But for me it is good to be near God; I have made the Lord GOD my refuge, that I may tell of all your works."

Psalm 73:2

"Let them thank the Lord for his steadfast love, for his wondrous works to the children of man!"

Psalm 107:8

Montana, Wyoming, and beyond!

On our trip down to Kansas, we were able to see God's care for us in some pretty cool ways. Before starting our travels, we gave our car a checkup and fixed everything - except the air conditioning. The AC had been broken from an incident a few years ago, and it was just by oversight that we didn't get it fixed before leaving. We soon realized our mistake as we started the drive to Montana, our first stop on the trip.

Wind River Canyon, WY

We made it about halfway through the drive to Montana, occasionally rolling the windows down to cool off, when we decided to try the AC again. To our surprise, it worked! Praise God!

Our next travel day, driving to Wyoming, we optimistically decided to try AC again. Like our first day, it didn't work for the first few hours... but it turned on just in time for the day to start getting hot. It continued to work for the rest of our trip.

We were also blessed by the friends and family who hosted us on our way down to Kansas. We were graciously provided housing and provisions for the way down, and we felt like the traveling missionaries that John exhorted Gaius to host in 3 John. Our hosts sent us "in a manner worthy of God" as "fellow workers in the truth" (vs. 6, 8).

Amazing family friends in Montana!

Arriving in Kansas (with AC)!

Time in Kansas

Staying in Evan's homeland was a great delight. One of the first things we did was speak at Evan's home church, and it was such a joy to share our hearts in that way! The people of Grace Community Church were very encouraging to us, and we continue to pray in thankfulness for them to keep up their loving, growing in, and being used by God.

There were many other ways we got to share and to spend time with friends and family too. We spent sweet time in Manhattan with Evan's brothers, and his older brother's family, and we had a short stay with very sweet relatives near Wichita. We were also invited to share with a Bible study group, and they were so excited to learn about us and mission aviation! Besides these, we had many encouraging lunch and dinner meetings. One joy was that Ginni got to play her music for lots of people through these opportunities, and that was a great gift!

Once we left Kansas, we headed to see friends in New Mexico and Arizona before coming back home. Before leaving though, Evan's dad found our car's AC problem, and it worked all the way home! Yay!

What comes next?

Evan is returning to Moody Aviation! He started working half-days in June and plans to return to full-time work as an instructor on July 6th. Students will begin the fall term on July 13th. Ginni is looking for new jobs right now, as well as looking to get involved with ministries in our local church!

Also, we're moving soon! We must be out of our current place by the end of September. Please pray for us as we look for a new place to rent, that God would provide the right place and wisdom in looking.

Conclusions and Prayers

Wow, we are in awe of everyone's generosity and kindness! To everyone who has supported the ministry financially, we are so thankful for you, and we praise God for you. Beyond the financial support, we have been richly blessed by everyone's relational and spiritual support. Thank you for partnering with us!

As of this writing, 38% of the initial support goal we set to raise for Proclaim Aviation has been met in monthly support. We are still in waiting as we look for God's further provision ahead of Evan's full-time start at Moody, though it is in the midst of much rejoicing. Beyond this goal, we plan to continue raising support during our time at Moody Aviation, both for Evan's current position and in preparation for serving overseas in the future. Please pray for us and for the Lord's continued provision!

Thank you for reading and for praying, we are very thankful for you all! Reach out if you have any inkling to, we would love to hear from you!
