

THE LYNAM NEWSLETTER

JULY

Whats been happening?

A Visit from Mom!

My mom was able to come up for a few days a couple weeks ago! We had a blast and tried to pack in as many adventures as we could.

- We watched the new Jurassic World Movie
- The top of mount Spokane
- Coeur D'Alene firework show
- Leavenworth WA which is a little German town

God is Faithful

We have watched God pour out His blessings! We house sitted for a family for a couple of days which turned out to be an awesome vacation for Hunter and I! Out in the country where it's quiet with a beautiful German Shepherd to watch.

We have sunflowers growing in the yard which we are loving! It's so beautiful here. Like an extended spring for Oklahoma. Everything we could possibly need has been provided from the Lord. Praise Him in all that He does.

PRAYER REQUESTS

The new semester!

Hunter starts school on the first week of August. Pray all goes well and he enjoys his Biblical courses. Destiny is with students this semester for the first time with Moody. Pray she can teach to the best of her ability as well as learn mission details!

Our Marriage

Hunter and I will be married for 1 year August 9th. We are so excited to celebrate! Please continue to pray for our marriage. The first year was insane with all that has gone on. We pray the next year will be a bit calmer but we'll see what the Lord has planned.

PRAISES

The North

Hunter and I love the North. It's so beautiful here in Washington. So many things to see and camping/hiking areas to choose from. Truly a praise.

We are also fully enjoying Moody. Hunter and I have made so many friends and are enjoying work and school. It's been a very difficult journey but we know God has us here for a reason.

Support Raising

We have reached full support. We appreciate everyone who has helped, encouraged, and prayed for us as we navigate where the Lord wants us. Again, we are truly blessed.

